Languages

Dutch (Flemish): mother tongue

French: good, German: basic, English: very good

Profile

From an early age I was fascinated by the application possibilities of a computer and they also turned out to be programmable themselves: administration, games, home automation, etc.

Education

In 2000 I obtained my Professional Bachelor's degree in Applied Informatics, supplemented in 2009 with a teacher's diploma.

There is still so much to discover in Computer Science, following evolutions and trends is lifelong learning.

Experience

I have a broad field of interest and have been able to build up experience in various positions and sectors such as analyst-programmer, IT employee, teacher, helpdesk employee, webmaster, developer and web developer.

As a result, I offer you a broad experience and great flexibility.

I thrive in an environment where my expertise adds value and where I can grow professionally in a pleasant, collegial and no-nonsense atmosphere.

Specialty

VBA, WordPress

Interests

ICT (r)evolutions, Linux, open source, tangram.

Hobbies

As a competition player, trainer, referee and board member, it is very enriching to be able to experience my table tennis sport from different angles.
